It's Education Week!

Elk Point's schools are in the midst of a busy and exciting Education Week, which kicked off yesterday with a pancake breakfast at Elk Point Elementary, and a hugely successful Career Fair at F.G. Miller High School.

Here's the schedule for the rest of the week:

At Elk Point Elementary, the major focus of the week comes on Wednesday, when the public is invited to attend an Open House at the school, beginning with the Book Fair in the school library from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m., open house activities and displays from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. and a Skipping Demonstration from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Coffee, muffins and juice will be served during the evening and everyone is welcome. The Book Fair continues during school hours on Thursday and Friday. Elk Point Elementary students are also going to have a Mini Career Day on Thursday afternoon.

Education Week at F.G. Miller High School will be highlighted by a Science Fair today, with evening viewing from 7 to 9 p.m. for the public. The local winners will go on to the County Science Fair in Heinsburg on Thursday. A mini talent show is scheduled on Friday afternoon. FGM will have special guests, the Quebec Exchange students, on hand during Education Week, to help them enjoy the busy week.

Beaverlodge best again

They came, they played, and once again, they conquered the Midget 'C' Provincial championships. Beaverlodge, who took home the 1992 gold, headed off into the sunset Sunday night with another set of gold medals and another Provincial Championship banner, following their 7 - 3 defeat of Magrath in Elk Point's A. G. Ross Agricentre.

Beaverlodge was an unlikely contender for the championship game, coming in to the semi-final round as the second place team in Division 1, after a 4 - 3 loss to Magrath in their first game of the tourney, followed by wins against Athabasca and Marwayne. Magrath had soundly trounced both Marwayne and Athabasca, before going on to defeat Warburg, the second place team in Division 2, 10 - 2 in Sunday morning's semi final game. Beaverlodge took on Standard, who had recorded wins over Thunder, Warburg and Viking in round robin action to finish first in Division 2, and edged out the 1992 Provincial Silver winners 7 - 6 to qualify for the final.

Mac MacLeod, Alberta Amateur Hockey Association's Zone 2 Chairman, was on hand to present the Provincial trophy to Beaverlodge Captain Mark Miller, and, with the assistance of Tournament Chairman Mike Chubey, present the banners and medals to both teams.

Volunteer week shaping up

A total of $650 in donations has been received by the Volunteer Week Advisory Committee, to assist with the various activities taking place during Elk Point's recognition of volunteers, April 18 to 24.

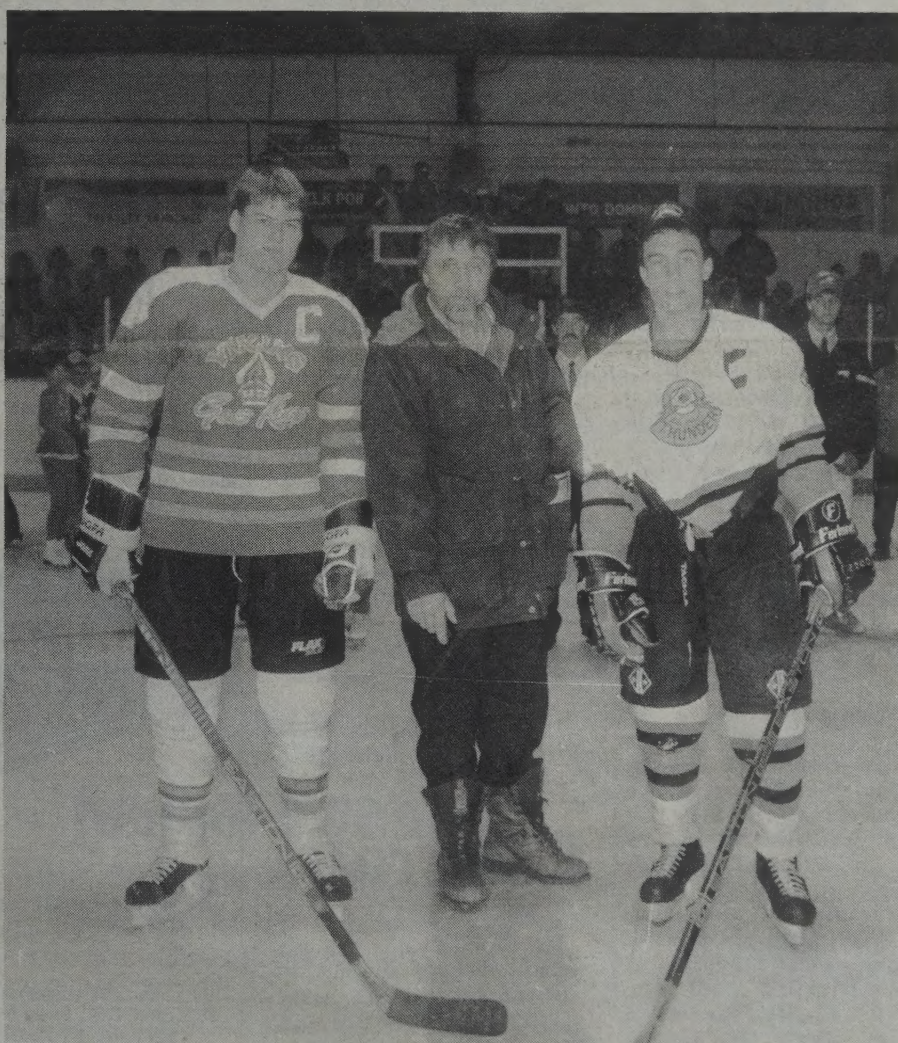

Norcen Energy Resources presented Volunteer Coordinator Daphne Schnurer with a cheque for $250 last week, and two other donations, $200 each, have been made by Pan Canadian Petroleum and Amoco Canada.

Construction of a banner proclaiming Volunteer Week is now underway by the capable and talented hands of Claire Ference, while Mike O'Neill is catching volunteers at work with his video camera. A committee consisting of Susan Frisby, Joanne Hutton and Daphne Schnurer is compiling volunteer statistics in readiness for the week.

Volunteer Week will begin with a kickoff event on the evening of Sunday, April 18, with Fab Two Theatre in town to present "Little Red Todd Bahlitz of Viking Junior Gas Kings (left) and Tyson Stafford of Elk Point Thunder were set to get the game underway following the Opening Ceremonies.

No show for Liberals

Beaver River Liberal candidate Michael Zacharko and the Beaver River Liberal Association executive were disappointed with the results of last week's public political forum in Elk Point, which drew no response. A similar forum in St. Paul earlier in the week had met with much better response.

Tender access for Chamber

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce members will soon have access to a full schedule of government tenders, through the INET computer linkup. To access the list of tenders for a particular field of labor or materials, any Chamber member may contact Chamber President Louise Crane after April 13 at 724-2611. President Crane feels the network will give member businesses opportunities to take part in tendering processes for a wide range of opportunities they would otherwise be unaware of.

The Chamber's new Agriculture Committee head, Millie Orr, had relatively good news for the Chamber, regarding the possibilities of rail line closure and subsequent loss of grain elevators. Mrs. Orr told the Chamber that Alberta Wheat Pool has a ten year plan in effect, and hopes to stay in Elk Point at least during that time frame. By the end of the ten year plan, the Pool will have reduced their present 257 elevators down to 52. United Grain Growers will face similar reductions in the next decade, but Mrs. Orr noted that there may not be enough grain in this area to support two elevator companies. CN plans to keep their rail line to Elk Point in existence until the turn of the century.

Mrs. Orr had also attended a dairy producers' meeting regarding the St. Paul cheese plant, which reopened March 15 after a shutdown, during which milk from the area was trucked to Edmonton. NADP, which previously operated the plant, is now part of DariWorld, an Agrifoods cooperative, Mrs. Orr said. The St. Paul operation has cut back the acceptance of cream to one day per week, and will likely phase it out entirely. The plant itself also faces eventual shutdown, due to high operating costs.

New Chamber member Gord Keryluk, who, along with a partner, recently purchased the Elk Point Hotel, was welcomed to the Chamber. Keryluk said he plans to install a grill to make increased food service available to his patrons, and hopes to become involved in the community.

Sid Holthe has volunteered to represent the Chamber at Interagency meetings.

A request was received from the Elk Point Hospital Board for a letter of support from the Chamber in regards to physician recruitment. Since the Chamber has perpetually urged the hospital to seek additional physicians, it was agreed to send this letter.

Billie Milholland gave the Tourism Committee report. She represented the Lakeland Tourist Association at the Edmonton Sportsmen's Show and gave out 2500 of the new Alberta North Summer Touring Guide, which has a sizeable entry on Elk Point and its attractions. She handed out copies of the handsome new publication to the Chamber attendees, and noted that 60,000 of the brochures have been printed and will be available at tourist booths throughout the province. Ms Milholland noted that although Elk Point has been "proactive in tourism from Ronnie Barwick on," they could "never have done this on our own - and the community didn't have to put any money into it." She also told the Chamber that the Bicen-tennial Society will be receiving a forty minute video of footage that was shot for the Midday television program, at the Fidler statue, at the Interpretive Centre and the Mural. This video will be shown on the community channel, and can be used by the Chamber for promotions.

On the subject of promotions, Sharon Smith reported that the Business Promotion committee had quickly put together a "GST-Free Weekend" promotion to be held in conjunction with the Midget C Hockey Provincials, March 19 - 21. She thanked Phil Sheplaw for his assistance in getting the project off the ground.

The Alberta Chamber of Commerce has provided the Chamber with a 'startup kit' which will be the focus of an evening workshop at some point in the spring. The Alberta Chamber's Annual Meeting is being held in Vermilion May 28 to 30, and the Chamber agreed to send one member of the executive as a delegate to the meeting.

School budget a challenge

The zero-per-cent increase in the provincial education grant will make drawing up this year's county school budget a challenge, according to Superintendent of Schoos Ted Cabaj. This grant accounts for about 80 per cent of the budget, however, school boards will have to wait until April for word on other grants, including transportation. Cabaj, who is in the midst of drawing up this year's budget, is assuming these grants will also see a zero-per-cent increase. He'll be presenting a budget draft at the April board meeting. The final budget has to be completed by May 31.

With increase costs in many areas, including a 12.75 per cent increase in distance education and a four to six per cent increase in materials and resources, balancing this year's budget won't be easy.

Cabaj said that even if teachers agree to a zero per cent increase, there's still the regular salary grid increments to take into consideration.

Volunteer Hood" and speaker Jon Lee Kootnekoff giving a talk on volunteerism. Coffee and doughnuts will follow this event, which starts at 7:30 p.m. in F.G. Miller High School.

Thursday of Volunteer Week will feature a Pancake Supper served up by the Girl Guides from 5:00 to 6:30 p.m. in the Seniors' Recreation Centre, followed by a fun and informative workshop entitled "Chickens, Ducks and Geese, or How To Prevent Yourself From Going Quackers" by Sandra Young Kolbuc. Both Sunday and Thursday events will be free of charge, although a voluntary donation at the pancake supper would be appreciated.

The next Volunteer Week meeting is scheduled for Monday, March 29 at 7:30 p.m.

Zacharko feels it is time for people to begin preparing for a federal election by getting to know the candidates and their platforms, and has embarked on a tour of the large federal riding to get acquainted with its residents.

In Elk Point with the candidate were Beaver River Liberal Association President Mary Zacharko, Vice President Don Demchuk, Secretary Rose Worobec and Treasurer Lillian Demchuk.

Coming Soon... Inside Information on Energy Efficiency

If you're looking for a new appliance, look for the new EnerGuide label. You'll find it on every new refrigerator, freezer, clothes washer, dryer, range or dishwasher, sold in Canada.

The new EnerGuide label shows the typical amount of energy an appliance will use in one year. By looking at the label, you can compare the energy consumption of one appliance to others with similar features.

The lower the number, the more energy-efficient the appliance. It's that simple.

Choosing an energy-efficient model today can add up to a lot of savings over the lifetime of the appliance.

So become energy wise. You'll save money and help the environment at the same time.

It pays to read the new ENERGUIDE label.

An information workshop has been designed to help you to prepare mentally, spiritually, and financially for this event, and as well to help you to share planning with your family. Guest speakers will include local representatives from the medical, legal and funeral parlor professions.

Setting your house in order

Pastor Jim MacLellan
Elk Point Baptist Church

Some people try to avoid death. Some even try to use humor to mask its reality. George Burns said "I don't believe in death." Will Rodgers laughed at death, until his plane crashed. Anne Boleyn wrote these words:

"Oh death, rock me asleep!
Bring me to quiet rest
Let me pass my weary,
guiltless life
Out of my careful breast.
Toll on the passing bell,
Ring out my doleful knell;
Let thy sound my death tell;
Death doth draw me,
Death doth draw me;
There is no remedy."

Whereas some accept, grant it regretfully the reality of death, others live fatalistically. Epicurus said, "Death feared as the most awful evils, is really nothing, For so long as we are, death has not come, and when it has come we are not."

The various religions of the world have viewed death in somewhat the same vein, however there does seem to be some major differences in thought. One thing that seems to be common to all is the notion of inexistence. It is said predominantly in Hinduism that "The truly wise mourn neither the living or the dead. There is never a time when I did not exist, nor you... Nor is there any future in which we shall cease to be." Buddhism says that "death is an avoidable feature of existence and it can cause anguish only when one attempts... to elude it..." One of the prevailing views of death in our western world comes from the thoughts of Plato. Plato of course used much of the thoughts of Socrates who believed adamantly in the belief that the soul was immortal. Because knowledge was the essence of the soul, he concluded that the soul was immortal.

Judaism, to the surprise of some, differs slightly from the consensus mentioned above. In early Biblical history it is difficult to find dogmatic statements in Judaism that affirm immortality. Rabbi Leona Modena (1571 - 1648), for example, admits it is 'frightening' that 'we fail to find in all the words of Moses a single indication pointing to man's spiritual immortality after his physical death' but nonetheless insists that 'reason compels us to believe the soul continues.'

Death interpreted from a Christian perspective is clearly viewed from the psalmist when he writes:

Psalm 89:48 - What man can live and not see death, or save himself from the power of the grave? Selah

Christianity predominantly affirms not only death, but life after death.

I know that my Redeemer lives, and that in the end He will stand upon the earth. And after my skin has been destroyed, yet in my flesh I will see God; I myself will see Him with my own eyes--I, and not another. How my heart yearns within me!

Job 19:25-27 With all this acceptance of death among the major religions it is interesting if not ironic to see our abhorrence to the subject. Paul Helm writes, "The modern western attitude to dying and death is all too obvious. It is to avoid it, avoid mentioning it, and where mention of it is unavoidable, to use euphemisms and circumlocutions. Death is crudely dressed up and sentimentalized in this way because it is so fearful and unpleasant..."

We want to deny death. That's the great problem. Billy Graham calls it the "conspiracy of silence." Notice what we say, "he departed;" or "she passed away;" or "he's gone upstairs!"

There are 5 things we must affirm about death:

1. I am going to die. Thomas Boston used to say, "Death will put all men on a level. The king and the beggar must dwell in one house, when they come to the journey's end..."

2. I do not know when I will die. The great paradox about death is that it is certain, yet greatly uncertain. Death occurs to all ages and stations of life.

3. Death is final (by perspective of this earthly existence). The wisdom of Solomon is worthy of note:

Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might, for in the grave, where you are going, there is neither working nor planning nor knowledge nor wisdom.

- Eccl 9:10

All earthly hopes and ambitions will end with death. What is left in the pending basket will remain there.

4. The time to prepare for death is now. Again we remember the wisdom of Solomon who said, "There is a time to live and a time to die..." (Eccl 3:2)

5. Death without spiritual faith is hopeless. Thomas Boston said, "Your eternal state will be according to the estate in which you die." Shuttleworth is quoted as saying that "life's evening will take its character from the day that preceded it."

Whatever the philosophical bias or religious conviction we must all face our own death. We must admit that it is, as the Bible says, an enemy. We must look the enemy right in the eye and learn how he operates, so that his power and tactics no longer hold fear and paralyzation over us.

The prophet of God, Isaiah, had the unenviable task of bringing a message of doom to an Israelite king, Hezekiah:

In those days Hezekiah became ill and was at the point of death. The prophet Isaiah, son of Amoz, went to him and said, "This is what the LORD says: Put your house in order, because you are going to die; you will not recover."

- 2 Kings 20

St Francis was working in his garden and someone asked him, "What would you do if you knew you would die in 10 minutes?" St. Francis answered, "I'd try to finish this row."

Accepting the reality and the paradox of both our mortality and immortality: "setting our house in order" should allow us the great freedom to "finish our row." Someone has said, "You are really not ready to live, until you are ready to die."

I encourage everyone to diligently plan on attending the workshop planned for this community, GETTING YOUR HOUSE IN ORDER. It will be held on Tuesday, April 6 from 7 to 10 p.m. The cost is FREE. It will be located at the Seniors Recreation Centre. This workshop is intended to help you become ready to die - so that you can live life to the fullest.

Stalling tactics

To the Editor:

The following letter was not written in protest against our employer, but rather to the AHA urging them to sign our contract that has been in limbo since April 1, 1992:

TO: The President of the Alberta Hospital Association

Dear Sir:

I am writing this letter on behalf of CUPE Local 1070 in regards to the stalling tactics being used by the AHA, in resolving and signing of our CUPE Collective Agreement. We are just one local out of how many in the province of Alberta that are anxious to sign our contract but will not sell ourselves short of getting a fair contract. We urge you to resolve this matter quickly and fairly.

Yours truly,

New guides enrolled at Fishing Lake

Fishing Lake Girl Guide Company held their 1992-93 enrollment ceremonies last week, with three new members and one new Guider being enrolled. Melissa Durocher, Theresa Flamand and Ruby Daniels joined Juanita Daniels, Becky Anderson and Sara Daniels on the Guide roster, while June Laboucane joined Rose Daniels and Brenda Anderson to help with leadership.

Mistress of Ceremonies Sandy Desjarlais introduced co-host Herb Lehr, who welcomed those in attendance and said that Fishing Lake is proud of their Girl Guides, who are the first Guide Company to be established on a Metis settlement, and are thus "a part of the history making process for Metis settlements." Lehr later said that the girls involved are offering leadership and role models for other girls in Fishing Lake and surrounding areas. He also praised the parents and leaders for their involvement, and said the leaders are devoted people who "go the extra special mile" to help the girls.

Becky Anderson and Juanita Daniels told their audience the history of the Girl Guide movement.

District Commissioner Cheryl Smith and Deputy Commissioner Susan Walchuk were present to assist in the enrollment ceremonies, as the girls and leader were duly sworn in.

Mrs. Smith said that Fishing Lake has started a trend, with a second Metis settlement, Elizabeth Settlement, now establishing a Guide Company. She told the girls that she is looking forward to seeing the Fishing Lake Guides at camps and events this year.

Community Services Coordinator Susan Barthel, who was instrumental in getting the Guide Company established last year, said she feels that "the single most important part of the development of the settlement is the development of our youth. You will be tomorrow's community leaders, and the role models for my children." Ms Barthel's efforts have also been appreciated. MC Sandy Desjarlais said "if it were not for Susan, [the establishment of] Guiding wouldn't have been possible here."

Guides and leaders joined in presenting certificates to members of the community for their support of the Guide company. Leaders were presented with flowers in recognition of their efforts. Guider Rose Daniels thanked the community for their support, and said that the Guides "are laying the foundation for the future. They ARE our future, and our tomorrow." Brenda Anderson added closing words of appreciation before all present enjoyed a cake celebrating Guiding's second year in the community, along with coffee, juice and other snacks.

Have a great year, girls!

Revenue Protection Plan to April 30.

In past years, the cancellation deadline came before the enrolment deadline.

Now both the enrolment and cancellation deadlines are April 30, so participating farmers need only remember one deadline date.

Through these programs, Alberta Hail & Crop Insurance Corporation offers Alberta's farmers more flexibility, more options for coverage, and more personal choice opportunities.

You select what works best for your farm:

ALL-RISK CROP INSURANCE

Renew or enrol for Canada-Alberta All-Risk Crop Insurance if you need protection against production losses due to weather and/or other natural hazards.

REVENUE PROTECTION PLAN

Get Revenue Protection if you're concerned about fluctuating income levels. Revenue Protection Insurance provides production and price protection based on historic price trends.

ALL-RISK CROP INSURANCE AND REVENUE PROTECTION

Protect against the natural hazards of crop production AND the financial losses that can result from low market prices. Get double protection and achieve even greater income stability.

To find out more about these programs and information on your coverage, contact your local Alberta Hail & Crop Insurance district office before the April 30 deadline.

THEY ARE THE CHAMPIONS! - Beaverlodge D. & J. Isley Midgets emerged victorious from the Championship game of the 1993 Alberta Midget 'C' Provincial Tournament in Elk Point on Sunday, March 21, and dedicated their win to a previous teammate who was killed in a vehicle accident this past year. This is the second annual Provincial Championship for Beaverlodge.

PROVINCIAL SILVER FOR MAGRATH - Magrath won all three games in their Division 1 round robin, as well as their semi-final game against Warburg, but were unable to make it by the defending Provincial Champions from Beaverlodge.

The Provincial tournament signalled both an end to the 1992-93 Minor Hockey season and the beginning of the 20th year of Elk Point's Minor Hockey Association. The anniversary was commemorated in Friday evening's Official Opening ceremonies, when the ceremonial puck was dropped by the Association's first president, Ray Hellquist.

The Official Opening was emceed by Agricultural Society President Glenn Harms and began with the arrival of figure skaters Elisabeth Ludlage and Dennell Anderson with Canadian flags and Callie Baumgardner and Charlene Anderson with Alberta flags. The four paraded the colors as Randall Kryss led the packed crowd in O Canada. Triple Gold skater Elisabeth Ludlage and Charlene Anderson each gave a short but talent packed skating exhibition.

The eight teams taking part in the Provincial Tournament were then welcomed, each led in by a pair of figure skaters carrying the team banner. Dennell Anderson and Leanne Longpre escorted Marwayne Elks, Sheri Makowecki and Carlen Mutch led Standard Selects, Kandice Bjornstad and Jena Basset preceded the Athabasca Winterhawks, Callie Baumgardner and Tanya Pankiw the Viking Junior Gas Kings, Jamie Schnurer and Julie Whiffen-Peters the Beaverlodge D. and J. Isley Midgets, Carrie Baumgardner and Carson Mutch the Warburg Mustangs, Amber Kopeck and Chantal Maas the Magrath Scepters and Krista Lypka and Melanie Johnson the hometown Elk Point Thunder.

Mayor Ed Buck welcomed players and fans to the community and thanked Elk Point Minor Hockey for organizing the tournament and making it a success. He offered words of encouragement for Thunder as they went into their second game of the weekend.

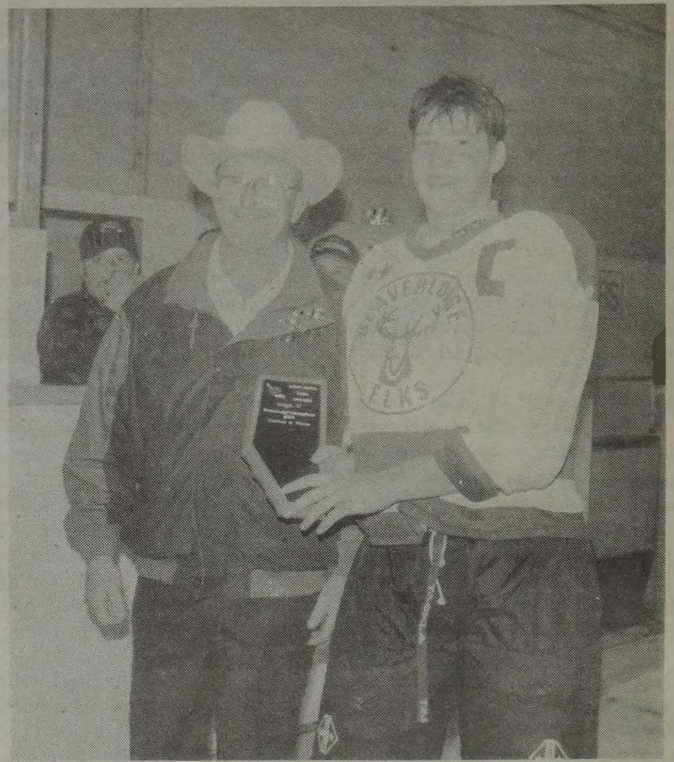

MLA John Drobot congratulated all participants, declaring they were "all winners" in their own right, and urging visitors to enjoy their stay in Elk Point.

Elk Point Minor Hockey President Al Pankiw added his words of welcome, and said Elk Point is proud to host the tournament for the second consecutive year. As the Association enters its twentieth year, Pankiw urged everyone to reflect on and recognize the past, constructively evaluate the present and plan to meet the challenges of the future so amateur hockey will continue to provide enjoyment for both the players and the community.

Zone 2 AAHA Director Mac MacLeod congratulated Elk Point Minor Hockey for once again hosting the Championship, and all the zone winning teams for their success. He also thanked the spectators for cheering on the boys, and wished all teams a successful tournament.

Tournament Chairman Mike Chubey also wished all teams the best of luck, as he declared the tournament officially open. The Association's first President, Ray Hellquist, then dropped the puck amid wild cheering and to the strains of "We Are The Champions."

The winners!

PROVINCIAL TROPHY - Mac MacLeod, Zone 2 Director of the AAHA, presented Beaverlodge Captain Mark Miller with the Provincial Midget 'C' championship trophy.

Germann wins scholarship

Mike Germann has been named the winner of the 1993 Bonnyville Pontiacs Hockey Scholarship, sponsored by Pan Canadian Petroleum, Elk Point. Germann was chosen by the Scholarship Board of Governors from three nominees. Since the other two nominees, Colin Zarowny and Curtis Hebert, expressed wishes to return to the Pontiacs for another season of play before continuing their education and thus will have another chance at the scholarship next year, the 1993 award went to Germann. He plans to study at NAIT this coming fall. The scholarship was presented at the Pontiacs' award banquet, March 6, by Brian Campbell, Superintendent of Pan Canadian's Elk Point operation.

Starvation for dollars

Esther Kraenkel
30 Hour Famine participant

Over 30 million people in southern and eastern Africa are facing death by disease and famine.

Seventeen school kids between 12 and 18 took part in the 30 Hour World Famine at the F.G. Miller High School on March 12 and 13.

Just before the event, a big plate of Kraft Dinner smiled at one of the participants. She ate it, knowing what lay ahead.

Taking part means no eating for 30 hours. The other part of the famine was to find sponsors to support World Vision, a world-wide Christian humanitarian organization. In 1992, they raised over $2 million. The money mainly supported medical services, farmers' training in Brazil and reforestation projects in Ethiopia.

The money that will be raised this year will go to Brazilian and Canadian street kids, to Asian girls who have had no schooling, little food and are affected by AIDS, prostitution and child labor. It also goes to Africa to supply health needs, shelter and clothing.

Friday, March 12 at noon was the last chance to eat. After school the kids gathered in the school to play games, sports, to watch movies or listen to music. At suppertime, there was no meal but juice and coffee were substituted for food, which made them go to the bathroom regularly. By midnight, they and their supervisors (parents, teachers or counselors) were tired. It was time to sleep in their sleeping bags on the gym floor. Starving seemed to make them tired but by Saturday noon, every participant was up and ready to go on.

When pancakes and bacon crossed their minds it was time to watch the World Vision video. It tried to promote the idea of the famine through rock singers. The effect was far fetched and incredible.

I realized that eating today is "mainly out of habit, not because we are hungry," said Kathy, 16. She also told us that she was aware of how we (of the western world) are also responsible for the poverty of underdeveloped nations because we exploit them. For example, loan and interest policies, exploitation of cheap labor and raw materials keeps them underdeveloped.

As the afternoon progressed, the teens waited for 6 o'clock, when food was finally to come.

Before the meal, the gear had to be packed and the school cleaned.

After a prayer, everybody ate noodle soup and buns with more appreciation than ever, and with the hope that they had helped others who have greater needs.

Values and benefits of recreation

We've looked at some of the personal and economic values and benefits of recreation. This week, let's look at some of the social benefits:

1. Leisure provides leadership opportunities that build strong communities - Volunteer leadership skills employed through discretionary time, are the key to building community organizations and programs.

2. Community recreation reduces alienation, loneliness and antisocial behaviors - Our youth and live-alone elderly are often cut off and alienated from the community. By reducing the barriers to participation in community recreation, we re-involve and often renew them.

3. Community recreation promotes ethnic and cultural harmony - The strength of a community is increased through recreation opportunities that allow people to share their cultural differences and play and grow together.

4. Recreating together builds strong families, the foundation of a stronger society - Recreation is the strongest contributing factor to creating strong and supportive families which in turn nurture productive and involved children and youth.

5. Leisure provides opportunities for community involvement and shared management and ownership of resources - Communities learn to work together through the organization of local leisure activities. These skills are then often used to respond to other neighborhood concerns, reducing the need for expensive institutional responses.

6. Integrated and accessible leisure services are critical to the quality of life of people with a disability and disadvantaged individuals - Leisure is an important component in the quality of life of individual citizens, particularly if their full involvement in society is limited by a disability. Recreation responds to their right to accessibility and full community participation.

7. Leisure opportunities, facilities and the quality of the local environment are the foundations of community pride - When communities compare themselves to one another, anxious to improve, they almost always evaluate their levels of open space, recreation facility and leisure program development.

Junior High girls basketball awards

F.G. Miller Junior High Basketball coach Ray Danyluk was in his element Thursday night, as he praised the accomplishments of each of his twelve team members at the annual Basketball Awards Supper, which as usual, followed a just-for-fun family basketball game.

Danyluk extended thanks to Donna Gulayec and Jim Hawkins for their help throughout the basketball season, and to Donna for organizing the banquet. He also thanked the parents for their support.

Quoting one of his players who had commented "the whole team deserves a MVP," Danyluk explained that a number of the awards were voted on by the girls themselves. Each girl also offered comments on her teammates, and Danyluk found "a lot of positive comments toward the rest of the team. Each girl had a special place and did a lot of special things." Keeping this in mind, each girl was given a plaque honoring her particular efforts for the team.

Pam Veer, the youngest member of the team, was named Most Improved Guard, and was Rookie of the Year runner-up.

Robin Youngchief, the Most Improved Rookie Centre, was the best fast break passer on the team.

Felina Kinjerski, who was the third highest scorer and the only player to score a point in every game, was the Most Consistent Player award recipient.

Shanna Baker, the Most Versatile Player, played all positions, and as Captain of the team, encouraged and supported the rest of the girls.

Tammy Sieben, the Most Valuable Low Post Player, was the top rebounder and, in the words of one of her teammates, "can handle anything."

Donna Pinder, the second highest scorer, set the record for the year at 13 points in a single game and was named Best Offensive Player.

Michelle Hillebrand is the highest percentage shooter of the team, and tied for Most Improved Player.

Melissa Easthope was the other Most Improved Player, and was heard to comment that she "wished the season was longer."

Sheana Kinneberg, a first year player who played well in all positions, was the 1992-93 Rookie Of The Year.

Raegan Croteau, fastest transitional player on the team, tied for Defensive Player of the Year.

Armina Kinjerski, who shared Defensive Player of the Year honors, is the most enjoyable player to watch, and the most improved on layups.

Robyn Danyluk was voted by her peers as the Most Valuable Player, and accumulated 106 points during the year, having served the team well on both offense and defense.

Coach Danyluk thanked all the girls, saying that all had worked very hard and given "100 percent effort." The girls presented their coach with a plaque and an autographed ball as his souvenir of a successful year.
